CIRCULATING THROUGHOUT THE VAST AGRICULTURAL AREA OF PALM BEACH COUNTY

--- $14,000,000 MILL COMPLETED ---

NEW BRYANT SUGAR HOUSE TO GRIND TUESDAY

The new $14,000,000 sugar mill at Bryant, known as Bryant Sugar House, will start grinding cane next Tuesday morning, according to official announcement by Harry T. Vaughn, president of the United States Sugar Corporation, owner and operators of the new sugar installation.

It was on Saturday afternoon, April 8, 1961, at three o'clock when the first silver shovel of dirt was turned for the huge mill at Bryant. Many dignitaries joined officials of the U.S.S.C. Corp., chamber of commerce officials and city and county officials, in making the ground breaking a never-to-be-forgotten occasion.

Farrel - Birmingham Company, Ansonia, Conn., contractors, have done a beautiful job of construction on the Bryant installation. Dick Smith, resident engineer, has been the genial man in charge for the contractors and through the months in this area he has won a host of friends for himself and his company.

Cane cutters will be in the field early Monday morning to start harvest operations in order that plenty of the juicy stalks may be available for grinding Tuesday morning. President Harry T. Vaughn and many other officials of the U.S.S.C. will be on hand when the mill turns over for its first operation.

Over at Clewiston the United States Sugar House started grinding operations the first of this week.

The 1962-63 season is expected to be a multi-million dollar proposition with thousands of acres converted into sugar fields in the past year in the lush Glades area.

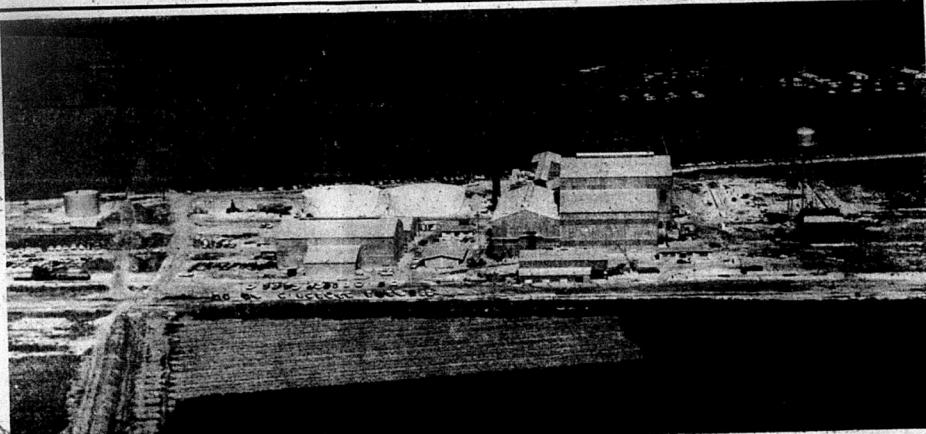

In addition to the United States Sugar Corporation, the original sugar concern in the area, there are seven other mills of various capacity which expect to share in the bumper harvest this fall, winter and spring.

If you keep up with the news you've been reading and hearing a great deal about the new nations in Africa and the problems they're encountering with their new-found independence.

A recent visitor to my office was Dr. Kahn Kirk Karegyesa (informally known as "Mr. KKK") who is assistant minister of agriculture of Uganda. His official title is Parliamentary Secretary, Ministry of Animal Husbandry, Game and Fisheries.

Uganda, about the size of Oregon, on the plateau of Equatorial East Africa, has been a British protectorate since 1894 and became independent this month—October 9. It has two capitals—Entebbe, seat of the government, on Lake Victoria three miles north of the Equator, and Kampala, the commercial capital and headquarters of the Buganda Kingdom. Uganda is bounded by Kenya, Tanganyika, Ruanda-Urundi, Congo and Sudan.

The country has a rich and advanced African-operated economy of agriculture and cattle raising.

There is no English land ownership. The concept of co-operatives is well established, more than 600 having been organized to handle various commodities including cotton, coffee, grains, nuts, sugar tea and sisal.

I was interested to learn from Dr. Kahn that he believes the technique we used in Florida to wipe out screwworms has important possibilities for application to the eradication of the tsetse fly in Africa. He mentioned our successful screwworm program as one of the three most important things he learned about during his seven weeks stay in the U. S. The others were the Agricultural Extension Service and our agricultural cooperatives.

A veterinarian with a degree in economics, Dr. Kahn believes conquest of the tsetse fly would permit a great expansion of cattle production in Africa. Uganda's cattle population now is about 4 million. To combat the fly, present control measures include spraying of animals and brush clearing to destroy the insect's habitat.

One kind of tsetse fly—there are about 20 varieties in Africa—infests cattle with a disease called "nagana." Animals die within one to three months after infection. To prevent infection cattle must be given an injection every two months.

Another kind of tsetse infests humans with encephalitis, similar to the sleeping sickness which broke out recently on the Florida West Coast.

Let's hope the tsetse fly never gets another foothold on our side of the world. It is believed to have existed here once, according to Dr. M. R. Clarkson who wrote in the U. S. Department of Agriculture yearbook for 1958:

"No cattle, domestic sheep or horses existed on this continent (America) when Europeans first arrived; they were brought in. Yet fossils remain indicate that at one time horses and cattle roamed about. We do not know what caused them to vanish, but the possibility that diseases exterminated them is given some support by fossil traces of insects, including the tsetse fly."

To wipe out the tsetse fly even in a single African country would take some doing. Blood is their only food, but, unlike mosquitoes, which are the only insects of greater medical importance, both male and female tsetse are bloodsuckers.

In addition to peculiar feeding habits, and the comparative immunity of native game to the disease which the insect spreads and which some game animals harbor, tsetse fly reproduction is different from that of most insects. Instead of laying eggs, the females give birth to live young which they deposit in haunts peculiar to the individual species. Larvaceids have been of no avail and breeding places are almost impossible to eradicate.

However, I'd venture to guess the tsetse could be wiped out by use of a "chemisterilant" which has been suggested as the next step in the sterile male technique. A bait containing a chemical to cause sterility among native flies would accomplish what costly fly rearing, irradiation and aerial dispersal did in our own screwworm eradication.

Dr. Khan made it plain he expects Uganda to make use of every advanced technique that it can in its program to expand agricultural production. Like other underdeveloped countries, Uganda hopes to achieve self-sufficiency first and ultimately produce enough surplus commodities so that it can earn more wealth from world trade with which to develop its economy.

That sort of progress is slow, but much sooner for its people, I believe, than rushing from a primitive existence into a world of modern technological wonders through the medium of loans and gifts from wealthier nations.

Donald Crews Is Honored At U of Fla.

Donald Crews, a senior at the University of Florida, Gainesville, was one of four students chosen to attend the Florida State Home Builders' Association annual convention which was held for three days last week at the George Washington Hotel in West Palm Beach. New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to 23.4% for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra $\frac{1}{4}\%$ from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my H Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic 4% increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage—to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

YOU SAVE MORE THAN MONEY WITH

U. S. SAVINGS BONDS

Airport Hassle Before The Voters

A straw vote set for Nov. 6 concerning the status of Palm Beach International Airport was aired this week by the county commission.

E. F. Van Kessel, vice chairman of the board, said there seemed to be some confusion as to the wording of the question which asks a yes or no vote to a query—"Should the county commission complete its study for relocation of Palm Beach International Airport?"

A "yes" vote, Van Kessel explained, means that the board would re-open a feasibility study to determine if the airport could be moved. A "Yes" vote at this time, he said, does not mean that the airport would be moved since there are many factors involved that might prevent the move under any circumstances.

A "no" vote to the question, he said, would be considered as meaning the commission should drop any plans for making a move and start planning for improvement of the present facilities.

Chairman Lake Lytal pointed out that if the "yes" vote won, the board could go ahead and complete its feasibility study. In this way it would have facts and figures available for presentation to governmental agencies who must cooperate in moving the base. If the government agencies such as the Federal Aviation Authority, or General Services Administration won't lend cooperation, then the airport couldn't be moved.

In the feasibility plan shows that the airport can be moved but that such a move will require an outlay of funds, the people will have another opportunity to vote on the question, Lytal said. Funds for the move, he explained, would make a bond issue necessary which would mean a freeholder election on the bond issue.

The commission considers a feasibility study made several years ago on the airport, to be out of date. A new study is needed to bring out additional information and update the old report.

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862 ... the same year that

IN FLORIDA, the State Legislature proclaimed that all the public lands to which the states claimed title through secession should be restored to market at $1 and $2 an acre, soldiers to have the right to buy at 1/4 these prices. Throughout the state the event was celebrated with foaming steins of beer.

For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation — light, sparkling refreshment that adds a touch of Southern hospitality to any occasion. Floridians have always enjoyed the good fellowship that goes with every glass.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

Christian Science Group Of Canal Point

An assuring message about immortality will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in a Lesson-Sermon on the subject "Probation After Death."

Opening the Responsive Reading will be these verses from the Bible (John 14): "Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me. In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also."

One of the citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (p. 487): "The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almighty and immortality."

Here Is What Transpired At Monday's Meeting Of The Palm Beach County Commission

A stack of corrections—some 250—made by the tax assessor's office in the current tax roll caused the county commission to raise a collective eyebrow this week.

In the case of a tax roll error, it's the commission's responsibility to take note of the error and certify the mistakes to the tax collector so he can correct his collection sheets. Errors in the past have been held to a minimum which was one of the reasons for the commission's surprise this week in receiving such a large number of corrections.

The mistakes were caused mostly by clerical error while others were caused by change of assessments and from items having been omitted from the original tax rolls.

The county commission this week approved a request from the Palm Beach County Fire Chiefs Association setting certain standards of equipment for new volunteer departments seeking county aid.

Under current legislation, volunteer fire departments throughout the county are given an annual allotment by the county.

John Tierney, association secretary, asked the commission to adopt a set of minimum standards for volunteer fire departments and further asked that the Fire Chief's

Association be allowed to process applications from new departments to determine if standards are met.

The commission named that association as its representative to check status of all departments seeking county aid.

The board also authorized County Attorney Harry Johnston to contact the Lake Harbor volunteer fire fighters in their effort to help that Glades department meet eligibility to receive a county allotment.

County Commission Chairman Lake Lytle will be in Tallahassee Nov. 2 and 3 for a meeting of a state-wide uniform advisory committee scheduled to study uniform traffic signals.

Lytle, who is a member of the State Association of County Officials, will represent that group at the meeting. He also represents the state association on a national level.

The November 11th Veterans Day observance caused the county commission to change the boards next meeting to Nov. 13. The holiday falls on Sunday, but it is customary for county employees to take the next working day as the holiday—which in this case would be Nov. 12.

Belle Glade Leads The Conference

As a charter member of the Suncoast Conference, Belle Glade never has captured any kind of league title in the dozen years the conference has been in operation. But today the Rams are the league's only unbeaten football team and give every indication that the long drought is about to be ended.

They have won six straight gridiron encounters and have yet to have their goalline crossed. But the road ahead is rocky and their present slender half-game lead leaves them still a long way from pennant assurance. Of their remaining four games three are on the road against their present closest rivals for the lead.

This week will present perhaps the Rams' most crucial test when they visit Lake Worth, a pre-season flag favorite whose leadoff four-game winning streak was just ended. The Trojans are certain to be aroused for a rebound effort and they may be Belle Glade's highest hurdle of the course.

Two other league games this week send runnerup Pahokee to slipping Stuart and Forest Hill to Riviera Beach. While Seacrest is idle, four non-league tilts have Vero calling on Orlando Edgewater, Clewiston entertaining LaSalle, Palm Beach as host to St. Thomas Aquinas and Ft. Pierce invading Ft. Myers.

The Rams whipped defending champion Seacrest in stunning fashion 33-0 last Friday's co-feature in the Suncoast. John Causey scored twice as the Hawks lost their first in the loop. In the other 'big' game, Pahokee pulled the No. 1 upset to date with a 19-0 flailing of Lake Worth as Alberto Morell scored twice on passes from Hal Peacock who made the other Blue Devil touchdown. Two other shutouts had Forest Hill keeping Clewiston winless 13-0 while rebounding Ft. Pierce kept Riviera also winless 20-0. In non-league action Vero romped Stuart 33-6 and Palm Beach fell 27-6 at Ft. Lauderdale.

Seacrest's Dan Gibson remained No. 1 scorer in the conference with 48 points. New runnerup is Peacock with 31, followed by Tom Close of Belle Glade and Fred Mayer of Lake Worth with 30.

Each Kirby Mole of Pahokee at 27, Ernie Russakiss of Ft. Pierce at 26, Didi Mills of Belle Glade at 20 and five players with 18. They are Larry Henderson of Seacrest, Shannon Miller of Ft. Pierce, Ken Foote of Stuart, Causey and Morell.

Former Sheriff Is Lions Speaker

C. E. (Red) Taylor, director of operations with the Florida Turnpike Authority, was guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Pahokee Lions Club, Tuesday, with the president, Kyle Scott, presiding. Mr. Taylor stated that the turnpike had been built by a $74 million dollar bond issue and completed in January 1957. It costs one million, six hundred thousand dollars for maintenance and salaries per year including the pay of 33 Highway Patrolmen who are used on the turnpike. He quoted various statistics, giving the startling fact that 15 out of 25 fatalities could have been prevented if seat belts had been worn. He strongly urged the use of seat belts.

Harry Brooks Elarbee was installed as a director of the club by E. A. Jensen, a former president.

It was announced that all of the light bulbs have been sold except three cases. When sales have been completed, which should be this week, a profit of $360.00 will be realized.

Mehibers were urged to attend the Council of Governors meeting to be held in West Palm Beach, this Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 27 and 28.

Guests were Hub Spooner, Belle Glade; John Stewart, Larry Yates, Russell Bradford, and Wayne Hundley, pianist. Kirby Mole was the guest of student member, Mike Watkins.

It is about one third of this has been accomplished. The Indians do all the work themselves, but enjoy ranch life. The speakers showed films taken at Dallas, Big Cypress and Brighton reservations.

It was announced that the president and other representatives of the club will attend the district meeting of the County Federation of Women's Clubs which will be held at the Boy's School in Okeechobee on November 1. Luncheon will be served and a program presented by the school.

Mrs. Todd also announced that the annual meeting of District 10 will be held at the Boynton Beach Woman's Club on November 7. It is hoped that a hundred dolls will be received at this meeting, which will be distributed to the Seminole Indian children at Christmas time. Dolls must have blond hair, be 14 inches tall and dressed. Any one wishing to make a child's Christmas happier should leave the doll at the home of Mrs. Todd before Nov. 7.
